

Local Frat Announces it is Leaving The Patriarchy

By: Jonathan Marshall on September 10, 2015

After generations upon generations of adherence to the “Code of Bro’s”, a local chapter of the fraternity Delta Iota Kappa has openly declared that it will be leaving the establishment of The Patriarchy.

In a bold move, ΔIK has decided that while subjugating women and trampling the liberties of those who do not display outrageous forms of aggression was, “cool and shit”, it is for the betterment of the chapter to remove itself from that atmosphere. They do however, wish their former compatriots well in their ventures.

Frat president William Cosby has always championed the rights of downtrodden men and remarks that he has often had his eye out for the ladies. “Misogyny just isn’t popular anymore buddy, I mean, look at Facebook. Do you see the pattern? Equality is trending hardcore right now, you think we’d pass that up?”

This change will embolden the chapter, he continues, and that they have big plans for repairing the damage they have committed while paying their dues to the organization that, in recent years, women have begun to unravel.

They have announced that they will be hosting events exclusively with the sororities in the area, hoping to put together many one-on-one interactions with members in order to get in closer touch with their female counterparts.

For October they have planned both a notorious A.B.C. Feminism mixer, as well as a ΔIKs4Chicks pub night. In the meantime, they have started a collection to benefit women, although it’s goal is not exactly made clear.

“Rest assured, it will all be going to girls in the workforce. We’re hoping specifically to host members of the entertainment industry back at the frat house” from Michael Romney, ΔIK fundraising vice-president. It is believed that there will be many stimulating, intellectual intercoursess planned for the night.

Romney pledges his full support to the cause, “Look respect is more than buying her a drink, and listening to her rattle on about her day, it’s also about talking to her less attractive friend sometimes too. They’re gonna need our help if they want to join us at the top.”

Fraternity ΔIK have also recently amended their motto to Dudes For Prudes and is currently ‘rushing’ on campus. They are expecting a large turnout from their more liberally minded peers.
